Plastic, Reconstructive & Aesthetic Surgery Society (iPRAS)

iPRAS aims to inspire, advise and promote better understanding of plastic and reconstructive surgery among medical students

Hear from Kyleen, one of our EIP Conference Chairs

Getting involved with iPRAS' events and community throughout the year has allowed my interest in plastic and reconstructive surgery to blossom. Through the Reconstructing The Stereotype (RTS) conference, I have only come to develop a greater appreciation for the diverse opportunities across realms of business, humanitarian aid, military support, war zone operations and academia.

Battling with my frustrations at the naughty grapes that kept tearing apart with every meticulous suture at the Microsurgery conference taught me a lot more about patience, discipline and GRIT. Keep your eyes peeled for our last HURRAH! of a conference where we bond over fiddling with the neurovascular bundles of cute little chicks. TLDR: I would strongly recommend YOU join iPRAS to #TestYourLimits, #LiveLifeOnTheEdge, and #TrustTheProcess.

Even when it's a just-got-slapped-in-the-face type of Monday, iPRAS' teaching series will be your prince(ss) charming to brighten your day.

I have met my lovely community of future Harley Street neighbours through iPRAS. Come to our Fresher's stall to say hello and you might just meet me!

What's to Come...

Fresher's Fair & Subcommittee Application

Don't miss this exciting opportunity to join the iPRAS team and get more involved in all things plastic surgery related.

Emergencies in Plastics Conference (EIP)

Reconstructing the Stereotype Conference (RTS)

Join us for our flagship conference! A weekend of practical workshops and lectures given by world-renowned plastic surgeons.
